

KARMA SALFORD HALL, THE VALE OF EVESHAM, ENGLAND

Welcome to Karma Salford Hall

A historic country retreat dating back 700 years, situated in the Vale of Evesham neighbouring the English Cotswolds, one of the prettiest rural regions anywhere in the British Isles.

Nestled amid farms, fields and ancient villages, Karma Salford Hall once belonged to King Henry VIII and retains its Tudor charm while offering traditional yet contemporary comforts, including 27 charming bedrooms, restaurant, library, games room and bar.

With the historic towns of Stratford Upon Avon – Shakespeare’s birthplace – and Leamington Spa – famed for its Regency architecture and shopping opportunities – Karma Salford Hall offers a quintessentially English experience that will linger long in memory.

Karma Salford Hall boasts 27 bedrooms. The décor celebrates the English Arts & Crafts style founded by another of the Cotswolds’ famous former residents – William Morris. Think four posters, print wallpaper, oakwood furniture and colorful upholstery. Some rooms are pet friendly.
